

METHODS FOR EFFICIENT PRODUCTION OF MAMMALIAN RECOMBINANT PROTEINS

5 ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A process has been developed for the production of human recombinant polypeptides using transformed mammalian cells cultured in a horizontally rotating culture vessel modulated to create low shear, high mass transfer conditions. The resulting recombinant polypeptide has bioactivity and is produced in increase amounts.

10